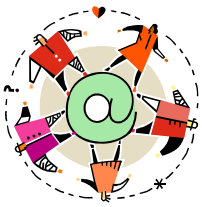
FIND SOMEONE WHO



Instructions:

1. Get out of your seat.
2. Walk around the room and meet your classmates by asking them questions about reading and writing
3. Here is how. Walk up to someone and ask them one of the questions on your list. Continue until you find something that fits, then write their name in the blank. You may ask a follow up question for more information if you like.
4. Now go on to the next person.
5. Try to meet everyone. Get different names for different questions.
6. Do not hand someone your sheet and ask them to write on it or rely on information from someone else's sheet. The purpose of this exercise is to talk to everyone and communicate with each other.

Find someone who:

1. Reads the newspaper every morning _____
2. Has books in different languages at home _____
3. Has a favorite author _____
4. Uses graphic organizers in teaching _____
5. Checks out sales flyers every weekend _____
6. Uses on-line dictionaries _____
7. Looks things up on Wiki-pedia _____
8. Reads or writes poetry _____
9. Hated English in High School _____
10. Loved English in High School _____
11. Can suggest stories for ESL readers _____
12. Reads instructions before putting together an appliance _____
13. Uses text messaging _____
14. Uses a map when lost _____
15. Reads nutrition labels carefully _____
16. Can pronounce "hyperbole" and explain what it is _____