

ROAD TRIP
USA

Mickey Mouse is peeking over the top edge of a dark blue sign. Only his head, large black ears, and hands are visible. The background behind him is a bright, cloudy sky.

Disneyland

ROAD TRIP
USA

Americans love to travel.

Americans also love cars. They travel in small cars, big cars, vans, SUVs and pick-up trucks.

Many people travel by bus or train.

Many families go on road trips in the summer.

Some go on long trips to see different parts of the country.

Other families travel to tourist destinations, such as Disneyland.

Many visit Washington, D.C., the capitol of the United States.

Some families travel a long distance to see other members of the family.

Travel is not always fun. Trips can cost a lot of money.

Some families stay home and go to the park.
It's fun and it's free.

Some families go swimming in the city pool.
Some go shopping at the mall.

But many families dream of a road trip – maybe next year. Maybe some day.
